

I feel that banking officials should not have the option to call consumers even if the consumer is on the "do not call" list. In fact even tonight, I was solicited by the "Wisconsin Paralyzed Veteran" for a donation. I promptly advised the call that we are on a do not call list and hung up. I feel that these calls are an invasion of my privacy. So please do not loosen the rules on the "Do Not Call" list.

Thanks
Diane Koerner